

“But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted, and were scattered abroad as sheep having no shepherd” – Matt. 9:36

April 28, 2009

Dear Praying Friends:

What a great month for the McPeters' family! We held our first two meetings earlier this month and thoroughly enjoyed our visits. Both churches are also preparing for upcoming revivals, and I am looking forward to attending a few of the services.

The Lord has been good this month in providing future speaking opportunities. If you talk with any missionary long enough, you realize that a big challenge in the deputation process is the “opportunities for opportunities.” This past month I was able to schedule four meetings in just one day of making contacts. What a blessing!

On the home front, life is full speed ahead. Krys and Cora are anxiously preparing for their May piano recital. This will be Cora's first recital, so she is getting a lot of unsolicited advice from her older sister! Adelyn is taking life in stride as usual. We have, however, learned the hard way, as we travel from church to church, to never leave home without her “blankie.” We have officially added it to our checklist of items needed for church visits!

We truly thank you for your continued prayer support. Let me end with a word of encouragement God gave me this week:

“Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it.” -Ps. 127:1

What a great reminder!

Jonathan McPeters

the power of a flare prayer

I am convinced when someone comes to my mind unexpectedly, that it is the Lord prompting me to pray for that person. Michelle calls them “flare prayers” - a quick “life line” directly to God specifically for the person on our heart at that moment. We've been on both the giving and receiving end of these “flare prayers” several times. What an encouragement it is while facing a quiet battle when someone unexpectedly tells you that they've been praying for you. Greater still is when you pray for someone God has laid on your heart, only to find out later, you were praying during a great need in their life. God takes care of His own, often through His own. If the McPeters' family ever crosses your mind, please feel free to send a flare prayer for us. We can assure you that we will do the same.

— Please pray for the following meetings in May!

- May 3 Friendship Baptist Church, Saluda, NC
- May 17 Trinity Baptist Church, Williamston, SC

Log on our site and join our Prayer Team!